

Western Shooting Horse Hosts Third Year Anniversary Celebration At CMSA Worlds

■ Western Shooting Horse Magazine celebrated its third anniversary at the Amarillo National Center during the 2010 CMSA World Championship. All CMSA competitors, vendors and sponsors were invited and hundreds attended and feasted on a Rudy's Barbeque spread of beef brisket and pulled pork. Door prizes were given away and included items from Western Shooting Horse, Colt and AJ Horses. Marty Luffman donated the trophy for a Big Hat contest that was easily won by a very large Mexican sombrero. Luffman also contributed to food and drinks that were served. Also in attendance was a contingent from the Germany CMSA club who presented a custom buckle to the top competitor of the day. Western Shooting Horse filmed contestant interviews hosted by CMSA announcer and Top Shot television competitor Denny Chapman that are currently airing online at the Shooting Horse Network.

Western Shooting Horse published its first edition in November of 2007 and made its premiere at the 2007 CMSA Worlds in Las Vegas.
